Salary grade: Main Scale or Upper Pay Scale if post threshold

Start date: September 2024

Role: Full time, permanent

Closing Date: 7th May - Applications processed on arrival

We are currently looking to appoint a passionate and motivated Computer Science teacher to join our successful Science faculty. The role would be teaching across key stage 3, and 4, with the possibility of teaching at A level. The school is rated 'good' by Ofsted, and we continue to strive for excellence, both academically and personally, for our children and young people.

Computer Science is an important subject in the Science faculty within the school and a popular choice at GCSE. It is a well-resourced subject with two recently upgraded computer rooms. Students study Computer Science across our three year key stage 3 curriculum. There are high levels of engagement, and established resources. There is also an established link with other schools in the Abingdon Learning Trust to share resources and ideas.

There are trips and projects that link with local schools and wider organisations. This includes a coding club. This aligns with a range of other opportunities in the Science Faculty such as eco-club, Science club, aeronautic club, research projects and peer mentoring; you will be joining a vibrant and creative team in a key faculty.
