

Headteacher Candidate Pack

An Introduction to Alde Valley Academy

Alde Valley Academy has just over 700 students on-roll currently, and this is due to rise to 750. The decision to close another local school this year puts an additional emphasis on Alde Valley as the school serving Leison, Saxmundham and the surrounding areas. We have close partnership links, including with Suffolk New College, who currently share some of our site. Over time, we expect the college to move into purpose-built accommodation and for AVA to make use of the full set of buildings in line with our growing numbers.

Investment - in the local area, in the wider region, and in Alde Valley Academy as a key institution - is taking place due to the major infrastructure project at Sizewell C. The previous headteacher has taken up a role within the trust to develop our community and partnerships work, particularly as a result of the development at Sizewell and the opportunities for our young people. Activities focus upon STEM, but also many arts opportunities. A series of inspirational events and employer engagement is underway. The launch of the Leiston Education Partnership has brought together feeder primary schools from different trusts and the maintained sector to develop the curriculum and wider opportunities across the age range.

The school is situated in extensive grounds and has the benefit of the town's leisure centre next door.

Leiston is a growing town which is attractive to families, providing access to housing at more affordable prices than other local areas. There are rail links nearby, at Saxmundham station, and Ipswich and Lowestoft are within a good commuting distance. The catchment for the school does offer us logistical difficulties and the school has therefore put on several bus and minibus routes to aid access. As a trust, we also provide transport for Alde Valley students to go onto access the 6th form at our sister school, Sir John Leman, in Beccles

The town has a proud industrial heritage and is now poised for much change as a result of the next phase of work at Sizewell. Alde Valley has a huge part to play in helping young people to make the most of investment and regeneration in our locality and the wider region. We are determined to provide a strong educational offer that will be another key factor in making this an attractive place to live and bring up a family.

Letter from our CEO

Thank you for your interest in the role of Headteacher at Alde Valley Academy. We believe that this is a remarkable opportunity to lead a school with enormous potential for future success.

I started as Chief Executive of Kingfisher Schools Trust in July last year – we recently changed our name to Kingfisher to mark an exciting new chapter and direction of travel. Our vision of 'achieving success together' – guided by the principles of opportunity, community and excellence – is one I hope you will be inspired by and wish to be a part of.

This is a chance to be a key leader, not just of a school but as part of a trust determined to make a real difference to young people in this part of the world. Together with my new colleagues and the board, we are developing collaborative working across the trust. I come to this role from leading a cluster of five schools in Cambridge for United Learning, where I was also Principal of Parkside, an outstanding secondary school with very high rates of progress. My colleague Kate Coates is our Director of Education – Kate has been a schools adviser, headteacher and executive headteacher in several schools, predominantly in the primary sector. Together, we are committed to offering the new Headteacher of Alde Valley Academy exceptional support.

Alde Valley has huge potential. Students want to be challenged to do well: where this happens now, they respond brilliantly. Our staff respond to clear leadership and a transparent approach to what is expected of them on the journey of school improvement. Our community wants success for their children and they are restless to see the academy flourish.

There is still too much inconsistency within the school, but recent work on a clear teaching approach is providing structure and a common basis for CPD. There are excellent personal development opportunities and attendance is strong compared to national averages. The school was judged to be Good in 2018 and began to grow in popularity from this point. However, staffing changes and the disruption of the pandemic were difficult challenges for the school; this saw outcomes decline and the last inspection in January 2023 judged that if a full inspection were to take place, the school may not be judged Good.

We have a huge opportunity, with the scale of investment coming into the area, to develop our offer and the quality of the experience students have access to. There is a determination to challenge the status quo and improve life chances locally, through a true partnership of schools, business, and the community, together with FE and HE. Whilst the nature of the Sizewell development means that there will be a focus on developing the quality of STEM teaching and learning, we know that much work needs to be done to improve literacy, from early years upwards. Alde Valley has had the benefit of external support this year, to develop teachers' skills in engaging students with texts.

We have a school improvement board chaired by Julie Winyard, a respected educationalist and formerly HMI. The board meets regularly and takes an active role in supporting senior leaders.

We are interested in speaking with candidates who will be dedicated to the young people in our school. This role would suit an experienced, successful headteacher or a very strong deputy headteacher who can evidence their impact in the journey of rapidly improving a school.

Outcomes are essential to life chances and the options available to our young people and we want to meet people at interview who can strengthen the academic ethos of the school and excellence in teaching. There are also important improvements to be made in the culture of the school, including behaviours in the broadest sense, integrated approaches to pastoral support, and working closely with parents and carers. To achieve this, we want to find a headteacher who can lead the school with moral conviction, clear plans and messages and real presence in school and within the community.

The scope to make an impact in this role is fabulous. I am excited to find a superb leader to take Alde Valley Academy into its next phase. I hope that you will consider applying. I would be delighted to speak with you in more detail ahead of your application.

There are four key dimensions to our new approach

No trust can meaningfully make progress without a core of practices all schools and leaders can commit to. At Kingfisher, these foundations will begin with minimum expectations for high quality teaching and learning and an ambitious curriculum, leading to improved outcomes for children and young people.

An annual cycle of stakeholder surveys will test whether we are meeting the needs of young people, parents and our staff and inform our plans.

In October 2023 we held a trust conference to launch our Principles for Teaching and Learning and to begin our collaboration across the trust. Teaching for literacy was identified as a key issue to pursue, especially at secondary level.

Cycle of continuous improvement

Each term there will be a cycle of review and support. Senior leaders in each academy will meet with the Headteacher, trust leaders and the Chair of the academy council to explore key issues. This meeting will inform a bespoke agenda for a follow-up in-depth school support day, the results of which must move the school forward.

We will differentiate the level of support required and have already formed school improvement boards where more rapid progress is needed.

Working in partnership

Partnerships add capacity and perspective to our work. We know that collaboration is an intrinsic part of the trust system and this support is especially important to us as our own team begins to grow. We will work with three types of trust partners:

National/system MATs – to draw on significant capacity and learn from best practice in the wider system, e.g. United Learning Local MAT partners – to collaborate on trust reviews and mutually beneficial projects, e.g. Gippeswyk Community Educational Trust, Enrich Learning Trust

Specialist MATs – to offer expertise in specific areas of school improvement, e.g. Olive Academies

Networking will challenge leaders to see best practice through programmes such as Challenge Partners.

Capacity and leadership development

We have made a significant and swift investment in our capacity for school improvement by securing a full time Director of Education with a strong track record to assist the CEO and then build an excellent team

Sustainable improvement is crucial and we will therefore focus upon leadership development activity, including the new NPQs.

Our Values

Our values drive what we do; they explain what is important to us. Our vision captures our ambitions for the future and what we are all working towards.

Our core values We believe in:	Our vision
Opportunity	We are ambitious for every child in our trust schools and we are dedicated to success for all. The decisions we make as a trust and the way we work is built upon what is right for the young people in our care.
Community	Each school will be a distinctive community that builds confidence in young people. Pupils will grow as individuals, work together and develop an understanding of the world around them.
Excellence	Every child will thrive in a strong school. Expert teachers, supported by strong leaders, bring to life a curriculum that gives pupils the knowledge and skills to succeed.
