Welcome from the Headteacher

My name is Stephen Spooner and as Headteacher, I am proud to be leading and welcoming you to Parklea Primary School.

Parklea Primary School is a relatively new school and we have worked hard to ensure we deliver the best possible learning for all of our community. We have high standards and expectations and therefore ask our community to strive to exceed their potential.....all aspirations are possible!

We are an inclusive school and committed to addressing the needs of all pupils despite their starting points. We work, learn and play together to ensure our pupils develop a positive balance between a good academic outcome as well as having high moral, social and emotional skills that will help them make positive decisions now and in their future.

I look forward to serving and working with you.
